

British and German Cavalry Clash on African Soil

(ABOVE.) BECAUSE OF THE LONG DISTANCES TO BE TRAVERSED MOST OF THE AFRICAN ACTIONS WERE FOUGHT BY MOUNTED TROOPS. A SQUADRON OF GERMAN CAVALRY IS HERE SEEN.

(AT RIGHT.) BRITISH MOUNTED FORCE RIDING UP AN AFRICAN VALLEY. THIS PHOTOGRAPH WAS TAKEN JUST BEFORE A SPIRITED SKIRMISH, IN WHICH THE GERMANS WERE FORCED TO RETREAT.

ENGLISH ARTILLERY CROSSING A PONTOON BRIDGE HASTILY THROWN ACROSS A STREAM. AT THE RIGHT THE HORSES ARE BEING WATERED PREPARATORY TO RESUMING THE MARCH IN THE SCORCHING AFRICAN HEAT.

(© Paul Thompson.)